

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present disclosure relates to a hair treatment process that comprises applying to the hair a composition comprising at least one ceramide compound in a cosmetically acceptable medium and applying an iron to the hair wherein the iron temperature is at least 60°C and raises the temperature of the hair. The process may be used for smoothing the hair.